To promote the spirit of social service and charity, N. C. C. cadets of the 15 Haryana Battalion N. C. C., Jind in collaboration with Hindu Kanya Mahavidyalaya Jind, Government College Jind, C. R. Kisan College Jind and other schools and colleges of Jind donated quilts and chairs to the Old Age Home located on Hansi Road in Ikkas village on 20th February, 2025. This noble initiative was carried out under the guidance of Commanding Officer Colonel Jagjyot. The event saw the active participation of CTO Mrs. Anju, Associate NCC Officer Lt. Pankaj Batra, Captain J. B. Dalal, Mr. Sandeep, and NCC CTO Mrs. Pushpa who guided the cadets and emphasized the importance of social responsibility. The primary objective of this initiative was to instill the habit of giving among cadets, helping them understand their social responsibilities and encouraging them to always be ready to support those in need. The elderly residents of the old age home deeply appreciated this gesture and showered their blessings on the cadets. During the event, cadets spent time with the elderly, understood their needs, and pledged to contribute to society in meaningful ways. The N. C. C. officers highlighted that such activities not only make young individuals more compassionate and empathetic but also help develop leadership and a sense of responsibility. On this occasion, Mrs. Anju motivated the cadets by suggesting that they should celebrate their birthdays, anniversaries or any happy moment by engaging in such noble causes, which would spread joy among the underprivileged and make their celebrations more meaningful. This initiative sends a powerful message to society that even small acts of kindness can bring significant change in someone's life. It encourages others to take inspiration and extend their support to those in need. 17 cadets of Hindu Kanya Mahavidyalaya Jind actively participated in this program. Around 400 cadets of 15 Haryana Battalion NCC Jind participated in this program.
