

Department of Political Science
Hindu Kanya Mahavidyalaya, Jind
Event: Programme on 'Reading of Preamble of Constitution'
29th January, 2025

On 29th January 2025, the Department of Political Science of Hindu Kanya Mahavidyalaya, Jind organized a program on reading the preamble of the constitution with on theme 'Our Constitution, Our Pride'. The aim of the program was to help students understand the importance of the Preamble of the Indian Constitution. The program was led by the principal of the college Dr. Poonam Mor and conducted by Mrs. Neelam, Assistant Professor of Political Science. Around 70 students took part in the event. Dr. Poonam Mor told the students that the year-long celebrations for the 75th anniversary of the Indian Constitution started on November 26th, 2024 and many programs will be held as part of this. This Preamble Recitation ceremony was one such event. Mrs. Neelam read the Preamble to the students and explained its meaning in simple words. She said that our Constitution's Preamble is one of the best in the world. It shows the spirit of the Constitution, the unity of the people, and their strong will to make the country progress. It also talks about the values of justice, liberty, equality, and fraternity. The event was also attended by Dr. Geeta Gupta, Associate Professor of English and Mrs. Sunita from the Computer Science Department. Dr. Anshul Singla, President of the College Management Committee along with other members congratulated Mrs. Neelam for organising such types of programs.

Glimpses and Media Coverage of the Event

